

BIO DATA OF AUTHORS

- 1. Caleb O. Oladipo, Professor and Snellings Chair of Christian Evangelism and Missions at Campbell University Divinity School in North Carolina where he also serves as Director of Braswell World Religions and Global Cultures Center. He is a fellow of the Baptist scholars International Roundtable. He has served as a visiting Professor in five continents and has received numerous teaching and leadership awards.
- 2. Sandy Dwayne Martin, Professor of Religion and former Head of the department at the University of Georgia, where he has taught for over 30 years. His research and publication concentrations are Black and American religious history, especially during the 1860 to 1920 period. Among his publications are Black Baptists and African Missions: The Origins of a Movement, 1880-1915 (Mercer University Press); a biography of James Walker Hood of the AME Zion Church; a co-edited work on clergy people and race relations in a Georgia city; and a host of articles and reviews.
- 3. Francis Appiah-Kubi (PhD), is an Associate Professor of Systematic Theology, Department of Religious Studies, Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, Kumasi, Ghana.
- 4. Robert Yeboah, is a Research Assistant at Catholic University College, Sunyani, Ghana
- 5. Matthews A. Ojo, Professor of Religious Studies at the Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife, and Former Vice Chancellor of Bowen University, Iwo. Nigeria. His research focuses on contemporary African Christianity with special interest on the dynamics of the Pentecostal and Charismatic movements and on Christian Missions in Africa.. He has held visiting appointments as a Research Fellow and/or a Visiting Professor at the Faculty of Divinity, University of Edinburgh, Scotland, 1993-94; Program of African Studies, Northwestern University, Evanston, IL, USA 1994 and 1995; School of Oriental and African Studies, 1997-1999; Harvard Divinity School, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA. USA, 2002; Centre of West African Studies, University of Birmingham, Birmingham, UK 2006, and Regent University of Science and Technology, Accra, Ghana, 2007-08 and 2020.

6. Ingie Hovland is a Limited-Term Assistant Professor at the University of Georgia. She is a cultural and historical anthropologist of religion and is especially interested in women and religion. She teaches in the Religion Department and the Institute for Women's Studies
7. Olubiyi Adeniyi Adewale is a professor of New Testament and former Head of Department of Religious Studies at the National Open University of Nigeria, Abuja. He's widely published and has presented papers at many international conferences.
8. Yaw Adu-Gyamfi (PhD) is Associate Professor of Old Testament Studies and Dean of the Graduate School, Christian Service University College, Kumasi, Ghana
9. Benson Ohihon Igboin is Professor and Head, Department of Religion and African Culture, Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba-Akoko, Nigeria and Professor Extraordinaire, University of South Africa, South Africa.
10. Ernestina Afriyie (PhD), is a Lecturer in African Christianity, Trinity Theological Seminary, Legon; and an Adjunct Lecturer in African Christianity at Akrofi-Christaller Institute, Akropong-Akuapem, Ghana.
11. Ezekiel Ajani graduated with a PhD in 2013 from Vrije University, Amsterdam, the Netherlands. His research focus was on the Transnational Leadership Roles of immigrant African Pentecostals with a focus on the Mountain of Fire and Miracles Ministries in Nigeria, Ghana and the Netherlands. Later in 2016, he obtained another PhD from Trinity International University, Deerfield, Illinois. His research focus was on the Reverse Mission activities of the Redeemed Christian Church of God, Jesus House Chicago, Illinois. His research focus is on African Pentecostalism and Missions. He is currently the head of the Religious Studies Programme of Bowen University, Iwo, Osun State.
12. Isaac Deji Ayegboyin is a William Paton Fellow of the Institute of Theology and Religion, University of Birmingham, UK, Senior Fellow of the Andrew Walls' Center for the Study of African and Asian Christianities, Liverpool Hope University, UK.. He has served as the President, Nigerian Baptist Theological Seminary, Ogbomoso (2008–2013) and Head of Department, University of Ibadan from 2013–2017. He is a Member, Consulting Editors, The Journal of African Christian Biography and a member of the Baptist World Alliance Commission on Baptist Doctrine and Christian Unity.